Design Reflection on "Shadows Into Light Two"

This typeface is called "Shadows Into Light Two." I chose this typeface to match the look of the logo. I thought it gave an informal and handmade feel to the site. But I think the legibility is a bit compromised due to the handwritten nature of the typeface. It may be best to use a different style and not try to match the logo.

Design Reflection on "Dhurjati"

This typeface is called "Dhurjati." I chose this typeface to contrast the look of the logo. I think it improves the legibility and creates a more formal and professional feel. I also changed the banner image to help balance the page.
